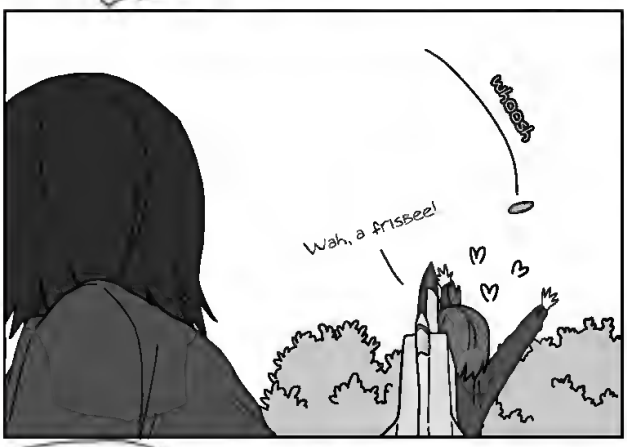
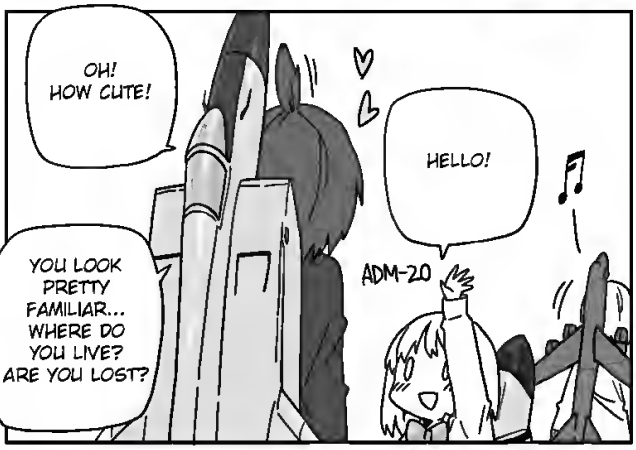
CANIS LUPUS FAMILIARIS



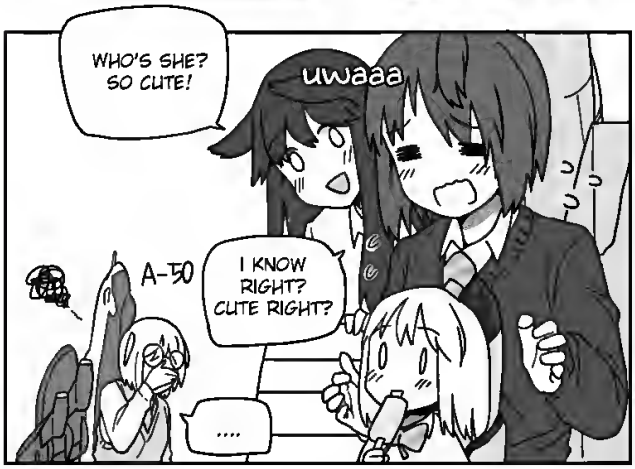
FISHING

HEY YOU! STOP!
B-52
Dang
POP
MiG-31
YOU DAMN TERRORIST!

THAT'S ENOUGH OF YOUR PURSUIT!
TA
LEAVE IT TO ME!
DA
GO QUAIL! I TRUST YOU!



OH! HOW CUTE!
HELLO!
ADM-20
YOU LOOK PRETTY FAMILIAR... WHERE DO YOU LIVE? ARE YOU LOST?

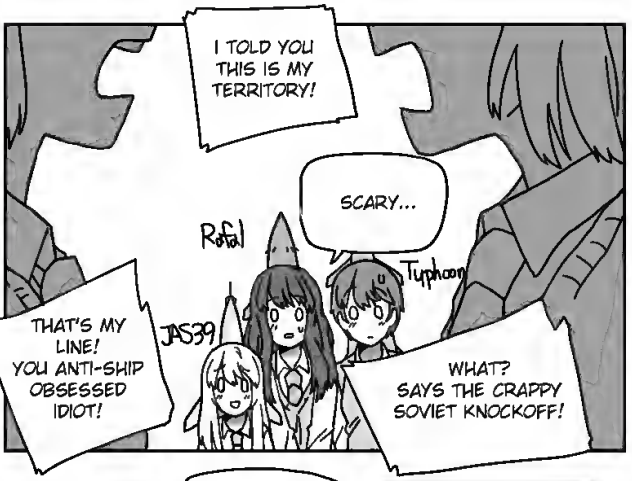


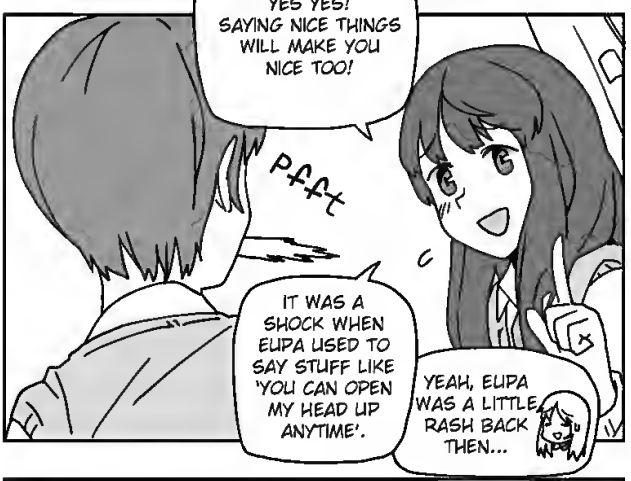
WHO'S SHE? SO CUTE!
uwaaa
A-50
I KNOW RIGHT? CUTE RIGHT?
....

SECRET

T-4
HEY! THE TALL UNNIE!
CAN I ASK YOU A QUESTION?
Max speed 3200 km/h
HOW DO YOU RUN SO FAST? TEACH ME!
I just saw you run
MQ-1
Max speed 217 km/h
....
BECAUSE I CAN'T SEE ANYTHING.
WOW COOL!
I WILL WRITE THAT IN MY DIARY!
I told you to wait~
B-2

DARK HISTORY





YES YES! SAYING NICE THINGS WILL MAKE YOU NICE TOO!
Pfft
IT WAS A SHOCK WHEN EUPA USED TO SAY STUFF LIKE 'YOU CAN OPEN MY HEAD UP ANYTIME'.
YEAH, EUPA WAS A LITTLE RASH BACK THEN...

Anyan's comments:

The MiG-31's NATO code name is foxhound... a breed of hunting dogs. As with all NATO codenames, they really aren't something the Russians would like.
The little kid the B-52 leaves behind is the ADM-20 Quail. It's a type of a missile that a bomber drops, which pretends to be an important target and fool the enemy radars. You little bastard!
In the T-4 episode, people were asking what I meant by undoing her hair. After the T-4 takes off, much like the Concorde, it raises the nose part to increase cruising speed. After it goes up, the cockpit glass is completely obscured. But of course they had a periscope to look around.
In the last part Rafale refers the suggestion Eurofighter made to Korea during 3rd F-X competition, where Korea would recieve a full transfer of technology (not just the planes, but the knowledge to build the planes) if they chose the Eurofighter.

TwoDee Scans

kirbyeggs.tumblr.com

Translation: Hacchan
Typesetting: Kirbyeggs
Editing: Yorty